

How is standardization done?

---

When measuring liquids in cells, DI water is used first to standardize for top of scale. The process is otherwise automated